

HELP RURAL CHILDREN GET... ... "BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL"

Post Lockdown, Help Us ENSURE NO CHILD DROPS OUT OF SCHOOL!

For this, we'll need to enable eVidya technology in more rural classrooms, deploy and train new volunteer teachers and use our local partners to motivate parents to re-enrol their children. But this is no easy task.

We seek your support, now more than ever, to ensure that every child is BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL!

Support us. Become a champion fundraiser.

Steps to become a Fundraiser

The screenshot shows a campaign page for 'Help Rural Children get "Back to eVidya School"'. It features a banner with children's faces, a progress bar showing ₹ 84,692 raised, 31 supporters, and 6 active campaigns. Below the banner, there's a section titled 'THE PROBLEM' with a brief description about the lockdown. On the right side, there are sections for 'CERTIFICATES' (12A, 80G), 'TAX EXEMPTION' (80G), and 'RECENT DONATIONS'. At the bottom, there are 'DONATE' and 'START A CAMPAIGN' buttons.

Start from eVidyaloka campaign page.

Click here to start.

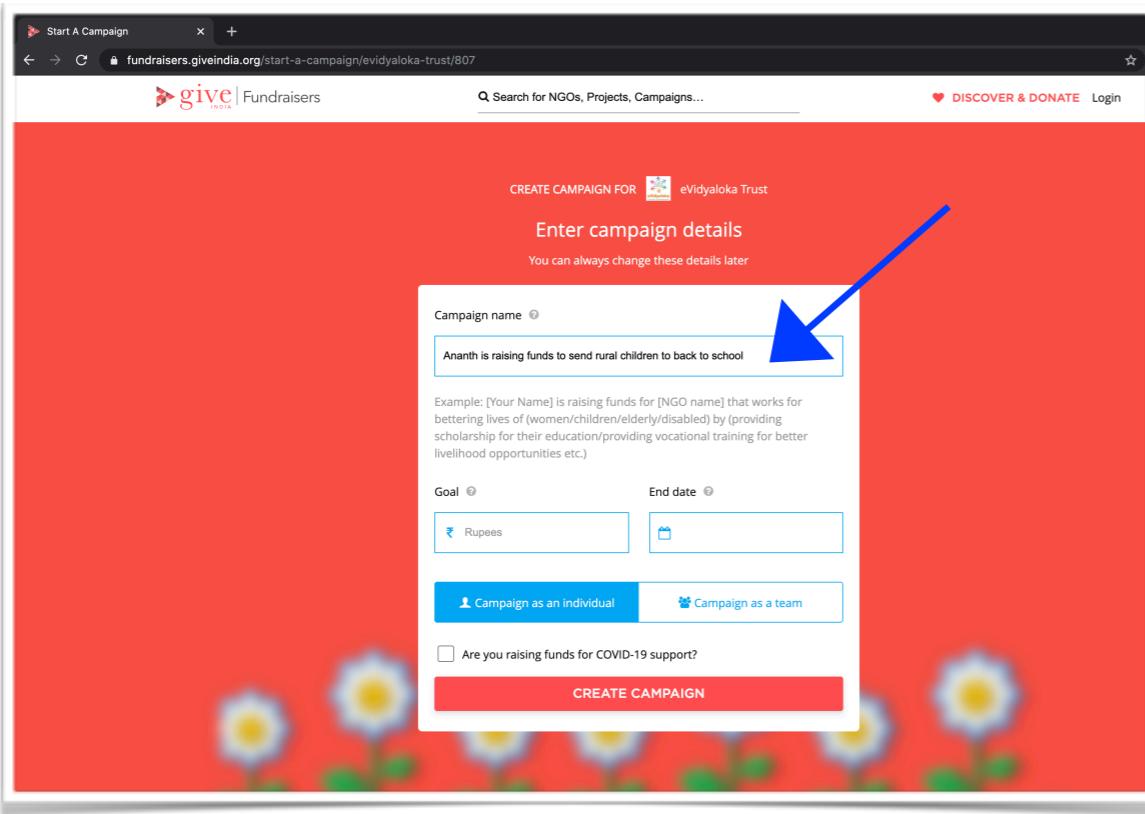

The screenshot shows the 'Start A Campaign' page for eVidyaloka Trust. A large red arrow points from the previous campaign page towards the 'START A CAMPAIGN' button at the bottom of the page. The page has fields for 'Campaign name', 'Goal' (set to Rupees), and other campaign details.

Click on
'Start a Campaign'

The screenshot shows the 'Create Campaign' page. It asks for 'Campaign details' and 'Enter campaign details'. There are fields for 'Campaign name', 'Goal' (set to Rupees), and checkboxes for 'Are you raising funds for COVID-19 support?' and 'Campaign as an individual' or 'Campaign as a team'. A 'CREATE CAMPAIGN' button is at the bottom.

The page asks for your campaigns details.

You can also change
them later.

Enter Campaign Name

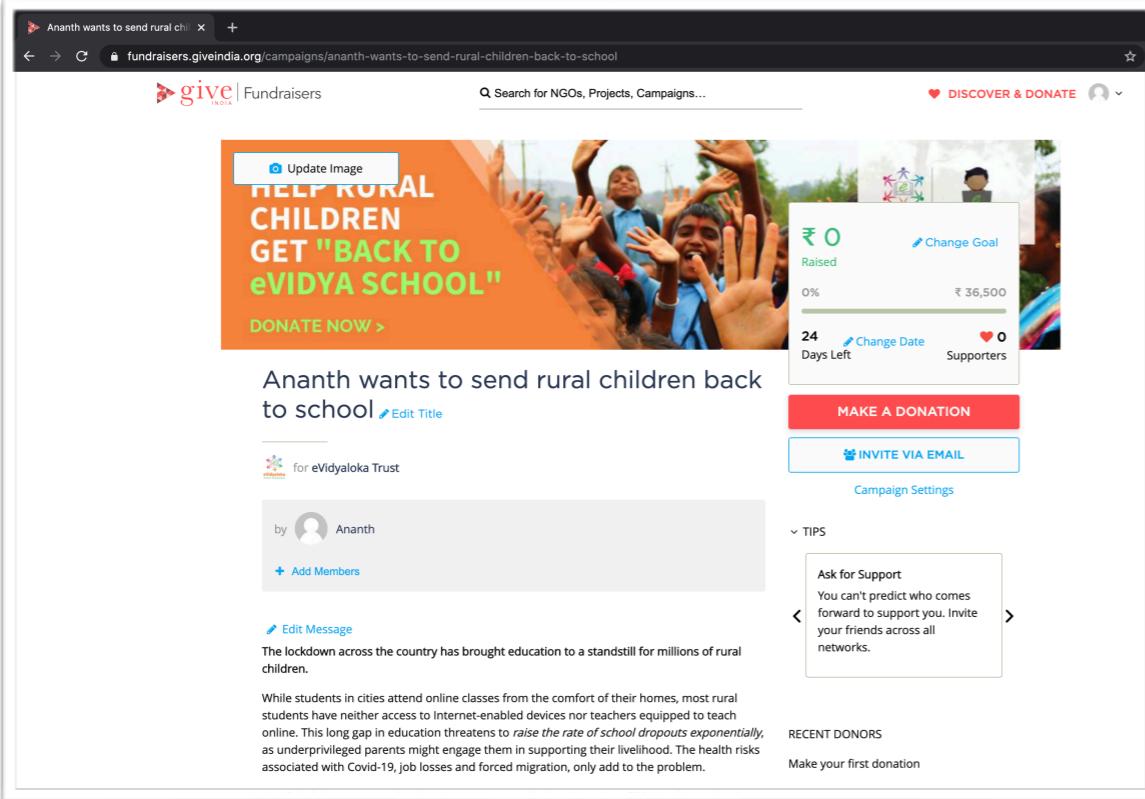

Enter Campaign Goal & End Date

Add team-mates to your campaign. You can add later too.

Login using Facebook, Google or Mobile Number.

Your campaign is ready with default content.

Ananth wants to send rural children back to school Edit Title

for eVidyaloka Trust

GET BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL!

DONATE NOW >

Ananth wants to send rural children back to school

24 Days Left

Raised 0% ₹ 36,500

Supporters 0

MAKES A DONATION

INVITE VIA EMAIL

Campaign Settings

TIPS

Make the first donation
It shows you are committed to the cause and inspire others.

RECENT DONORS

Make your first donation

SPREAD THE WORD Hide sharing

Share on Facebook

0 Shares

Copy and send the below link to people whom you want to add to your team:
<https://fundraisers.giveindia.org/campaigns/ananth-wants-to-send-rural-children-back-to-school/jointeam/f68befb67c0753165b8d>

The lockdown across the country has brought education to a standstill for millions of rural children. While students in cities attend online classes from the comfort of their homes, most rural students have neither access to Internet-enabled devices nor teachers equipped to teach online. This long gap in education threatens to raise the rate of school dropouts exponentially, as underprivileged parents might engage them in supporting their livelihood. The health risks associated with Covid-19, job losses and forced migration, only add to the problem.

At eVidyaloka, we use technology to empower rural education, since 2011. In the academic year 2019-20, we enabled 1700+ volunteer teachers from across the globe to teach 20,000+ children in 237 villages across 10 States; solving the severe shortage of teachers in government schools through live, interactive classes.

Today, as schools are closed and exams are canceled, we are striving to re-connect our volunteer teachers to rural children through Internet-enabled smart phones.

However, the larger problem we are preparing to solve is to ENSURE NO CHILD DROPS OUT ONCE THE SCHOOLS REOPEN. For this, we need to enable eVidya technology in more rural classrooms, deploy and train new volunteer teachers and use local partners to ensure parents re-enroll their children. This is no easy task.

We seek your support, now more than ever, to ensure that every child is BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL!

Add team members if you like.

Ananth wants to send rural children back to school Edit Title

for eVidyaloka Trust

GET BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL!

DONATE NOW >

Ananth wants to send rural children back to school

24 Days Left

Raised 0% ₹ 36,500

Supporters 0

MAKES A DONATION

INVITE VIA EMAIL

Campaign Settings

TIPS

Customize your campaign
Give it a personal touch through cover picture and description, to foster transparency.

RECENT DONORS

Make your first donation

SPREAD THE WORD Hide sharing

Share on Facebook

0 Shares

Save Cancel

The lockdown across the country has brought education to a standstill for millions of rural children. While students in cities attend online classes from the comfort of their homes, most rural students have neither access to Internet-enabled devices nor teachers equipped to teach online. This long gap in education threatens to raise the rate of school dropouts exponentially, as underprivileged parents might engage them in supporting their livelihood. The health risks associated with Covid-19, job losses and forced migration, only add to the problem.

At eVidyaloka, we use technology to empower rural education, since 2011. In the academic year 2019-20, we enabled 1700+ volunteer teachers from across the globe to teach 20,000+ children in 237 villages across 10 States; solving the severe shortage of teachers in government schools through live, interactive classes.

Today, as schools are closed and exams are canceled, we are striving to re-connect our volunteer teachers to rural children through Internet-enabled smart phones.

However, the larger problem we are preparing to solve is to ENSURE NO CHILD DROPS OUT ONCE THE SCHOOLS REOPEN. For this, we need to enable eVidya technology in more rural classrooms, deploy and train new volunteer teachers and use local partners to ensure parents re-enroll their children. This is no easy task.

We seek your support, now more than ever, to ensure that every child is BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL!

You can add your own cover picture, write up, video, etc.

Ananth wants to send rural children back to school Edit Title

for eVidyaloka Trust

HELP RURAL CHILDREN GET "BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL"

DONATE NOW >

Ananth wants to send rural children back to school

24 Days Left

Raised ₹ 0 0% ₹ 36,500

Supporters 0

MAKES A DONATION

INVITE VIA EMAIL

Campaign Settings

TIPS

Customize your campaign
Give it a personal touch through cover picture and description, to foster transparency.

RECENT DONORS

Make your first donation

SPREAD THE WORD Hide sharing

Share on Facebook

0 Shares

Update Image

Normal B I U G H E S F A

The lockdown across the country has brought education to a standstill for millions of rural children. While students in cities attend online classes from the comfort of their homes, most rural students have neither access to Internet-enabled devices nor teachers equipped to teach online. This long gap in education threatens to raise the rate of school dropouts exponentially, as underprivileged parents might engage them in supporting their livelihood. The health risks associated with Covid-19, job losses and forced migration, only add to the problem.

At eVidyaloka, we use technology to empower rural education, since 2011. In the academic year 2019-20, we enabled 1700+ volunteer teachers from across the globe to teach 20,000+ children in 237 villages across 10 States; solving the severe shortage of teachers in government schools through live, interactive classes.

Today, as schools are closed and exams are canceled, we are striving to re-connect our volunteer teachers to rural children through Internet-enabled smart phones.

However, the larger problem we are preparing to solve is to ENSURE NO CHILD DROPS OUT ONCE THE SCHOOLS REOPEN. For this, we need to enable eVidya technology in more rural classrooms, deploy and train new volunteer teachers and use local partners to ensure parents re-enroll their children. This is no easy task.

We seek your support, now more than ever, to ensure that every child is BACK TO eVIDYA SCHOOL!

Copy the link and share with your networks.

Click here to start.

*Together,
let's help rural children get...
...Back to eVidya School*